We are working toward the release of the Focused Feasibility Study (FFS) and Proposed Plan for public comment by the end of this year. While the River Mile 10.9 negotiations are still on-going (until the end of May), now it does not look like they will affect the schedule for the FFS as much as previously thought. If that changes, I will let you know.

Alice:

Can you give me an update on the release date of the Focused Feasability Study?

Thanks,
